Last Week ~ February 28

Jena Maciel presented the program which featured her recent experiences in Guatemala. This was her 21st trip in the past 13 years. She first presented President Denny and Lloyd Dry with some small gifts in appreciation of the club support. Jena talked about the scholarship project that gives students scholarships to continue in their studies. She also spoke of The Woman's Fabrication Project where single women are given the means and materials to make goods to sell at the marketplace, such as apparel, purses and more. Jena mentioned the Chicken Project in which families are given chickens and a rooster to start a flock. She talked about her visit to Antigua where she presented funds from a GoFundMe account to their Rotary Club for natural disaster aid. Jena thanked our club for support and volunteers for the trips over the past few years. We thank you Jena, for your tremendous dedication to the Guatemala Project.

Also last week, Steve Just gave an update on his father, Marvin. Marvin will be starting targeted immunotherapy this week. According to Steve, Marvin is getting excellent care from his oncologists, nurses, staff and everyone. He hopes to get one Adirondack chair completed in time for the auction.

Assignments for work duties for the upcoming track meet were handed out, so everyone should know their assignment.

The new Reedley Community Business and City Guide copies were handed out by Erik Valencia. This will now be an annual publication. Erik thanked Mid Valley Publishing and Fred Hall for their assistance in putting this publication out.
